

Dear Friends,

We thank God for your lives. We thank God for HFKM Board and we pray for you and your families. I'm very thankful with God for the grace and favor over Eagle College and over us. This is our 6th year and every day that has past has been a challenge.

It has been very difficult to face problems, obstacles, discouragement, hard decisions with the staff, problems in the city, economic problems, lack of peace, violence and insecurity in the city, problem with construction, personal problems, problems with parents, etc. But today I want to thank God because he has strengthened and protected us even in all this situation around us. In the hardest time of insecurity and violence, Eagle College was a light in the darkness, and the proof was that we have more students and also we have been recognized by our city and education authorities as the best school. This can be done first of all with God's help, Eagle College staff and each one of you that supports and prays for us. God wants to establish his kingdom in this city, but the enemy will always want to be stopping what God wants to raise.

I think, why doesn't this city change? I think that the answer is: A lot of people want this city to be different and change according to God's will, but, who wants to pay the price? To invest their time, life, money, outstay opposition, rejection, criticism, loneliness, discouragement, frustration, etc. The enemy will always want to discourage people. When he sees that what they are doing is bringing good results, he will always try to stop God's work through discouragement.

There have been times (a lot) when I have been discouraged and God has strengthened and lifted me—and sometimes it has been through you. God shows me what you are doing here for us. Seeing you come all the way from Michigan, makes us look at your lives and that encourages and help us to keep walking and keep doing our job. You are a big example to our lives.

I'm really sad to make you feel bad, but there are occasions that it's not easy to have good results or good news all the time, because in life we have obstacles, problems, challenges, that we have to face too. Sometimes we have very hard times that we don't want to talk to you about. Sometimes we don't have any good news.

I admire and acknowledge all the work that you are doing, and that everything is with love and for God. I know the economic situation in Michigan hasn't been easy either and I know it's not easy to ask people to donate, or contribute money. But I know as well that our God is bigger than our problems.

Something really important is that you are part of Eagle College, and that if the economic situation changes, God will show us another strategy to succeed, always together.

We love you very much and we appreciate everything you have done for us!

Will you be the one?

In the last three years the city of Miguel Alemán has gone through difficult times. As a result of the drug cartel wars, some families and fathers have had to leave the city. Jobs are scarce and many parents are unable to pay the $100 per month tuition.

There are currently children from the orphanage enrolled at Eagle College that still need a sponsor to assist with their tuition. This may be the only opportunity for these orphans to hear about God's love for them.

Would you, your church, your business, or your small group prayerfully consider helping one of these children meet Jesus this Christmas?

More information on sponsoring a child can be found _____
